

REESLIFT

REES is a CE-certified professional manufacturer of aerial work platforms, headquartered in Feicheng High-Tech Industrial Development Zone, Shandong Province, China. We specialize in the design, manufacturing, and sales of self-propelled vertical mast lifts, mast boom lifts, and scissor lifts.

As a leading provider of aerial work solutions, we have established a sales and service network with over 15 distributors in key global markets. We boast a strong and growing presence in Europe and have expanded our business footprint to numerous countries worldwide. Since our inception, we have been committed to providing inherently safer aerial work platforms. Leveraging decades of professional expertise, REES continuously integrates the latest technologies, advanced processes, and premium materials while strictly implementing the ISO 9001 quality management system to ensure every machine meets the highest standards of excellence.
